

VOL. VI.—NO. 81

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice, at Philadelphia, Pa.,
Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Published Daily Except Sunday. Subscription Price $6 a Year by Mail.
Copyright, 1919, by Public Ledger Company.

TODAY'S BASKETBALL RESULTS
LOWER MERION H. 18 10-28 UPPER DARBY H. 9 3-12
GERMANTOWN HIGH 15 16-31 CHESTNUT HILL A.C. 9 3-12

ADDITIONAL RACING RESULTS
Fifth Havana race, 1 1-8 miles—Timothy J. Hogan, 90, Achaambalt, 7 to 2, 6 to 5, 3 to 5, won; Pomeroy, 98, Merimee, 7 to 1, 5 to 2, 6 to 5, 2nd; Great Gull, 110, Crump, even, 1 to 3, out, third. Time, 1:58 3-5. Misericorde, Native Soil, Frank Burke, Egmont and Half and Half also ran.
Sixth Havana race, 1 1-8 miles—Bill Hunley, 106, Collins, 5 to 1, 7 to 5, 7 to 10, won; Little Cote, 93, Archambault, 5 to 1, 7 to 5, 7 to 10, second; Crystal Day, 101, Chavetta, 2 to 1, 3 to 5, 1 to 4, third. Time, 1:54 2-5. Homeb, Night Owl, Fairy and Star also ran.

LONG CHASE ENDS WITH ARREST HERE OF ALLEGED CROOK

Former Husband of Fayne Moore, of "Badger Game" Fame, Caught in W. Phila.

ROTAN'S MEN FIND HIM IN SECOND WIFE'S HOME

Accused of Stock Swindle—Held in Default of $2500 Bail. Has Jail Record

William A. Moore was arrested here today after a ten months chase which led over much of this country, and to South America.
Moore, who is said to have obtained more than $500,000 by fraud, was committed to prison this afternoon in default of $2500 bail.
Moore is fifty-six years old, juny of manner and dress, of the build and type associated with large deals and sums running into many figures.
Near him when he was arrested before Magistrate Wright at 1311 East Allegheny avenue, was his second wife, daughter of a Shamokin minister, who smiled and chatted with him in the hearing room.

Husband of Fayne Moore
His first wife, who divorced him in 1902, when he was serving a long sentence in Sing Sing Prison, is now the wife of one of South Africa's "diamond kings." Moore and his first wife, Fayne Moore Lewis, were the principals in a sensational trial in 1909. They were accused of working the "badger game" on a New York hotel proprietor.

The charge on which Moore was held this afternoon was preferred by August Friedrichs, 5022 Newhall street. Friedrichs bought $1600 of stock from Moore, he said, at $20 a share after the defendant had made alleged false representations to him.

Other alleged victims have sworn out warrants and six fugitive warrants are hanging over Moore's head. He also is under indictment here, the true bill having been found when he was in South America.

Arrested in Home Here
Moore was caught at 2 o'clock this morning in a house on Sixty-third street near Callowhill, where he was living with Mrs. Moore. The arrest ended a ten months' search and was made by detectives on the staff of Chief Cortelyou, head of the district attorney's detectives and next director of public safety.

Chief Cortelyou sent Detectives David D. Friedman and Harry Dickerson to the house, 2300 Callowhill street, where Friedman rang the bell and Mrs. Moore, in a kimono, came to the door. She admitted that Mr. Moore was in the house. Moore, who was in the conversation, stepped into the hall and was seized by the detectives.
The accused man and his wife, who was Myrtle Schaffer, kissed each other as the detectives prepared to take Moore to City Hall. Detectives say he admitted his identity and blamed his capture on his desire to see his wife and five children here.

Organized Underwriters Firm
Thomas O. Haydock, Jr., an attorney who represents 250 clients who have made charges against Moore, gave the following version of the events said to have led the accused man to decamp:
"Moore organized a company, which company ten years ago established offices in Walnut street. The company is still doing business, is solvent and the accused man has no connection with it now."
The business organized by Moore prospered and paid 16 per cent dividends. During those ten years there was not a breath of suspicion directed against Moore. He was going as "straight as a string."
Moore was president of the company, which had 45,000 shares of treasury stock. It had a par value of $10 a share. Moore, in September, 1918, induced the board of directors to vote

"MERRY CHRISTMAS" A HOAX IN OFFICE OF RECORDER HAZLETT
Clerks Rebel at $2 Assessment for "Surprise" Present for County Official.

In the words of Dickens's famous character, Scrooge, "Merry Christmas, bah."
That is the feeling today among many of the 250 employees under Recorder of Deeds Hazlett. They are rebelling at a $2 assessment for "Merry Christmas" presents for County Official.

Two of Mr. Hazlett's highest paid subordinates are preparing a Christmas surprise for their chief. And to pay for this present the employees in the office are being asked to "fork over" $2 a man.

The scheme originated with William P. Sargent, solicitor at $4000. Sargent admitted $2 was being asked from each employee.
Some of the clerks getting $1200 balked at coming up for their superior, who gets $10,000. They refused to pay their political assessments and their ward assessments and needed a little Christmas money for themselves and their families. But the collections are still going merrily on.

CAN'T SILENCE HAYWOOD

Judge Denounces Outrage in Letting Radicals Address Public
Chicago, Dec. 17.—(By A. P.)—Federal Judge K. M. Landis said today there was nothing he could do to prevent William D. Haywood, radical labor leader, from speaking at Detroit next Sunday. The American Legion post at Detroit had requested Judge Landis to issue an order forbidding the meeting.

"It is the outrage of the century that these men should be permitted to go around making speeches," Judge Landis added, referring to Haywood and his convicted L. W. W. associates, who are at liberty under bond. The United States Circuit Court of Appeals refused them.

CLARA BARTEL AND HER MOTHER

At the left is the sixteen-year-old girl on trial at Doylestown, Pa., accused of killing her father with a shotgun last August in the kitchen of their home near Edgewood, Pa. At the right is the girl's mother, Mrs. Bartel.

GIRL, 16, IS TIMID AT TRIAL FOR LIFE

Clara Bartel, Accused of Killing Father, Appears Frightened as She Faces Judge

HARD TO FILL JURY BOX

Doylestown, Pa., Dec. 17.—A frightened, timid girl, Clara Bartel, entered the courtroom at Doylestown at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and faced the judge before whom she will be tried for the murder of her father last August at their home near Edgewood.
Not yet sixteen years old, with her frock just below her knees, and her hair drawn straight back and tied with a blue ribbon, she resembled anything in the world but a prisoner on trial for a heinous crime.
The spectators were seated and the girl's mother and members of her family sat in the front of the courtroom. "Oyez, oyez, oyez," called the court clerk. Judge Ryan entered, and with a subdued rustle all arose.
The brief ceremony concluded, all looked toward the little door through which the girl must enter. In came Hiram Keller, the district attorney charged with the duty of prosecuting the case. He looked at Clara, and behind him came Clara's mother and her mother's mother.
Seemed Oddly Out of Place
She was seated in the group of counsel, and seemed oddly out of place among the men sitting there. Her big ribbon bow made a bright bit of color, and she made her way to the chair reserved for her the court officers gently repressed a tendency upon the part of the spectators to rise to obtain a better view. There was much quiet moving about, much craning of necks, furtive winks at eyes upon the part of the women and embarrassed coughs from the men.
Clara looked around, dropped her eyes, and dabbed the tears that trickled down her cheeks. She was in a ball in her hand. The judge settled back in his big arm chair, and the grim business of the day proceeded.

Trouble Getting Jury

Much trouble was experienced in obtaining jurors who did not object to capital punishment in the case of a girl prisoner. The men called, farmers, storekeepers and other sturdy country types, would give one look at the child as she sat in her modest little dress, and declare firmly they were opposed to capital punishment.
None opposed to the death penalty said they would serve. The first jury panel of twenty-one was exhausted. Proceedings came to an abrupt stop then, while the sheriff, under orders from Judge Ryan, went out to impound twenty more men for examination.
The four jurors selected in addition to Heston and Stenuse were W. W.

Influence Has Diminished

The industrial conference at which Mr. Lane presided ended in failure, and the industrialists are getting out of that body. That conference and the coal strike issue have not added to Mr. Lane's comfort in his position.
The truth is that the Wilson administration is breaking to pieces and that men who have made sacrifices of their personal feelings as well as of their purses to remain in it are getting out. Mr. Lane is a diplomat. He has always been a born compromiser. He has always been the President's choice to compromise labor disputes. But his own fate shows how difficult is the way of compromise. He chose the opposite course to Secretary Garrison. His last three years of office have been years of diminished influence and unhappiness, and he is going out amid talk of presidential egotism.
His resignation awaits the convenience of the President.

"TERRIBLE TERRY" ON TRIAL

Woman Admits Aiding Gang of Alleged Counterfeiters
New York, Dec. 17.—(By A. P.)—Margaret Murray, known as "Terrible Terry" to a gang of alleged counterfeiters on trial in Federal Court here, testified today that William Snyder, one of them, had threatened to kill her if she "squaked," and carried a knife with him for that purpose.
Paul A. Ruhano, secret service agent, testified that William J. Tierney, another of the gang "worked Philadelphia" with another man but refused to arrest women.

FIND PROBE IN MURDER OF BILLY DANSEY MAY HAVE BEEN BURIED

Relatives of Prisoners Also Discover House Where They Believe Boy Was Murdered

WHITE AND WOMAN MAY NOT BE TRIED

County Prosecutor Admits He Is Surprised at New Turn in Events

By a Staff Correspondent
Atlantic City, Dec. 17.—Discovery of a house in which Billy Dansey is believed to have been murdered and a hole in which the body is supposed to have been subsequently buried were two big developments today in the Hammoncton murder mystery.
The deserted building in which Billy is thought to have been killed is the "Horsekiller house," on the Horseshill place, about a mile and a half from the Dansey home and about 500 feet from where the boy's skeleton was found.
In view of these discoveries and other developments employed by Edward H. Gaskill, Jr., county prosecutor, charged with being responsible for the death of the boy, will never stand trial.

Gaskill Changes Attitude

That the latest discoveries are regarded as highly important is evident from change in attitude of Edmund C. Gaskill, Jr., county prosecutor.
Asked today if he would attend a hearing set for Friday on habeas corpus proceedings started by E. Arthur Bolte, counsel for the prisoners, Mr. Gaskill said that it might not be necessary.
Billy Dansey disappeared October 8. After a country-wide search his skeleton was found on November 21 in a swamp some distance from his home. Sensational news evidence, unaccepted by county and state detectives and private detectives employed by Edward H. White, father of the accused man, points to two other residents of Hammoncton as the murderers of the boy. The hole in which the body is supposed to have been buried between the time of Billy's death and when his skeleton is alleged to have been hidden in the Poison swamp, he is discovered later by Gaskill, is found in the woods about half a mile from the Dansey home.

White and Woman

James White, brother of Charles White, and husband of Mrs. Susan White, for whose arrest a warrant is out as an accessory to the murder, and detectives found the hole on Monday.

Spot Had Been Searched

It was about the size of an orange, and was found in the hole. The spot where the hole was found was frequently searched before the boy's body was recovered.
At that spot a pile of brushwood hid it. This brush was pushed aside, supposedly by the murderers when they searched the body, and was found by the searchers.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

UNDERWOOD BOLTS ON TREATY BRINGS COMPROMISE NEAR

Alabama Battles With Hitchcock for Democratic Leadership of Senate

BEGINS VIRTUAL REVOLT AGAINST THE PRESIDENT

May Force Wilson's Hand by Compelling Agreement on Reservations

Underwood in Revolt

He is insurgent. He is virtually in revolt against President Wilson's leadership. If he felt sure of the caucus he would hardly go to the length of virtually breaking with the White House.

Even the defeat of Senator Underwood will not end the prospects of compromise. What has happened is that Senator Hitchcock has been careful to do nothing that would not meet the approval of the White House. He has been extremely guarded throughout his leadership of the treaty fight. His position has been essentially conservative.

The result is that there has been in the Democratic ranks a sort of radical sentiment that a bolder policy on Mr. Hitchcock's part would have made a compromise on the treaty possible and would have carried the President with it.

Would Supplant Hitchcock

Mr. Underwood has perceived this radical sentiment which is critical of Mr. Hitchcock's leadership. He has been anxious to attend to the situation sympathetically with his program growing out of the dislike of the President among the Democratic senators and out of the conviction of the minority under his leadership now that his term of office is drawing toward the close.

But one thing this revolt of Mr. Underwood has done is to reveal the situation in the Democratic ranks. The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

Democracy Forced to Act

Mr. Underwood has, as he expressed it, "looked up the jug." The situation is totally changed as a result of his campaign. The Democrats can no longer stand off and wait for the approval of the House. They must make an effort to secure the passage of the treaty. The chances favor a compromise on reservations nearly like the Lodge reservation.

TODAY'S BASKETBALL RESULTS

LOWER MERION H. 18 10-28 UPPER DARBY H. 9 3-12
GERMANTOWN HIGH 15 16-31 CHESTNUT HILL A.C. 9 3-12

ADDITIONAL RACING RESULTS

Fifth Havana race, 1 1-8 miles—Timothy J. Hogan, 90, Achaambalt, 7 to 2, 6 to 5, 3 to 5, won; Pomeroy, 98, Merimee, 7 to 1, 5 to 2, 6 to 5, 2nd; Great Gull, 110, Crump, even, 1 to 3, out, third. Time, 1:58 3-5. Misericorde, Native Soil, Frank Burke, Egmont and Half and Half also ran.
Sixth Havana race, 1 1-8 miles—Bill Hunley, 106, Collins, 5 to 1, 7 to 5, 7 to 10, won; Little Cote, 93, Archambault, 5 to 1, 7 to 5, 7 to 10, second; Crystal Day, 101, Chavetta, 2 to 1, 3 to 5, 1 to 4, third. Time, 1:54 2-5. Homeb, Night Owl, Fairy and Star also ran.

ADDITIONAL RACING RESULTS

Sixth New Orleans race, 1 1-16 miles—Thursday Nighter, 113, Butwell, 9 to 5, 7 to 10, 1 to 3, won; Capital City, 108, Wifin, 16 to 5, 6 to 5, 1 to 2, second; Tanak, 110, Stirling, 5 to 1, 3 to 5, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:47 2-5. Letta, Lucile P., Don Dodge and Little Gink also ran.

ADDITIONAL RACING RESULTS

Seventh New Orleans, 1 1-16 miles—Miss Filley, 110, Stirling, 12 to 1, 5 to 1, 5 to 22, won; Capitania, 110, Rodriguez, 25 to 1, 8 to 1, 4 to 1, second; Prince Henry, 108, Collettelli, 6 to 5, 1 to 2, out, third. Time, 1:47 1-5. Mab, Little String, Phillistine, Gordon Roberts and Parrish also ran.

OREGON AVIATOR PLANS TO FLY AROUND WORLD

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—G. M. Gordon, an aviator of Portland, Ore., announced here today that he proposed to start from San Francisco before February in an attempt to fly around the world in a seaplane.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT ORDERS SNOW REMOVAL

HARRISBURG, Dec. 17.—The highway department tested today its snow removal service in some of the mountain counties. County road superintendents last night ordered the maintenance forces to clear the main highways which were found to be so covered as to impede travel. A number of heavy trucks suitable for hauling drags have been sent from here to various places for snow clearing service.

FRANCE MAY INCREASE POSTAGE RATES

PARIS, Dec. 17.—An increase of the internal postage charges from three cents to four will be discussed at a meeting of the directors of the postal administration this afternoon under the presidency of Louis Deschamps. The proposed increase, it is understood, will probably be adopted.

5 HURT AS BUS OVERTURNS

Four Philadelphians Among Injured in Camden Accident

Five persons, four of whom are Philadelphians, were injured this morning when a trolley bus overturned at Broadway and Jackson street, Camden, as a result of slipping streets.

The vehicle struck a telegraph pole as it turned. Passing pedestrians narrowly escaped injury.

The injured are:
William Eisler, 2905 Frankford avenue, head cut.
John McMalon, 5717 Tulip street, body bruised.
Edna Davidson, 5700 Larchwood avenue, cuts and bruises.
Harry Caffery, 1920 East Canbria street, legs injured.
Raymond Rudy, 815 Linden street, Camden, cuts of head.

All were taken to the Cooper Hospital.
William Gian, driver of the bus, 216 Washington street, Camden, was held in $1000 bail by Recorder Stackhouse.

'BUDDY' BLAKE'S BODY HERE

Little Coffin Passes Through City on Way to Baltimore
The body of "Buddy" Blake, in a little coffin encased in a plain pine box, arrived at North Philadelphia from Atlantic City shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

A small crowd gathered and silently watched the hearse pass by the platform where the Baltimore train would stop.

James M. Blake, the father, accompanied by Miss Clara Miller, his sister-in-law, left the train and went to the waiting room, where he was the target of curious glances when he was whisked to the fall man in the heavy elevator was the father of the child drowned at Atlantic City. With Miss Miller he remained seated in the waiting room until the Baltimore train came in at one minute before 12.

The father and the aunt of the dead boy sat apart from the crowd. They were visibly sorrow-stricken, and conversed but little, and then in subdued tones.

RAPS U. S. FOOD SALES

President of Tri-State Packers Says They Are Unjust

H. T. Strassbaugh, president of the Tri-State Packers' Association, which is holding its annual meeting at the Adelphia Hotel, criticized the action of the army and navy in selling foodstuffs to the public at cut prices.
"The war with Germany is over," he said, "but the army and navy are still making war on the packers and canners."
"They have been selling goods at less than the cost of manufacture, which has made it very hard for the packers," William L. Rice asserted, the containers of American canned and packed goods, were from 50 to 80 per cent lower in quality than those of other countries. This hurts our export trade, he said. This hurts our export trade, he said. This hurts our export trade, he said.

BOY EMULATES MOVIE BANDIT

Hold-Up in Real Life Not So Successful as on Screen

GRAND JURY OPENS PROBE OF ALLEGED MINE CONSPIRACY

Conclusion Must Answer Question Whether U. S. or Group Rules, Judge Says

OPERATORS AND MINERS IN JOINT PLOT, IS CHARGE

Miners Defied Injunction, Anderson Asserts—Investigate Lever Act Violations

By the Associated Press

Indianapolis, Dec. 17.—The federal grand jury summoned by United States District Judge A. B. Anderson to investigate alleged violations of the Lever act and anti-trust laws by operators and miners and charges of conspiracy by both, in connection with the strike of bituminous coal miners, was impaneled today.

Judge Anderson's charge to the jury was lengthy, and in concluding, he said:
"Let your investigation in all these matters be thorough and searching and let your conclusions be a full answer to a question which has been uppermost in the minds of our citizens for the last few weeks: That is, whether the government of the United States or a group of men shall rule this country and whether we shall be governed by law or force."

Joint Conspiracy Alleged

Judge Anderson instructed the jury to investigate charges that the mine owners not only conspired among themselves to limit the production of coal, but that they conspired with the miners themselves.

Stress was laid on the failure of the miners to return to work when the order calling the strike of miners was rescinded by international officers of the United Mine Workers by direction of the court. Judge Anderson declared that the court's order to cancel the strike was complied with "in form only" and that for a month the injunction called attention to the fact that the miners virtually all mines whereby the miners' union dues are held from their pay and turned over to the union by the operators. He also pointed to charges that since the passage of the Lever act, mine owners have made enough profits and that these profits have been made by handling the business in certain particulars in violation of the Lever law.

Sees Blow at Competition

The charge quotes from a speech made in the House of Representatives on October 23, in which it was declared that union miners, by joint conferences with operators, had reached an agreement that the usual methods of organized labor, as utilized to destroy competition, were to be used.

The same speech, he said, quoted John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, as saying that one of the joint conferences, as saying that as he understood the purpose of the meeting, it was to wipe out competition by means of us miners first, next for the purpose of wiping out competition as between operators in these four states (Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and western Pennsylvania) and the mine owners. It is understood the real purpose of this movement, it is that we will jointly declare war on every man outside this competitive field who will do anything in any way endangering the peace that exists between us."

Admission By Lewis Charged

"On the face of it," Judge Anderson declared, "this is a direct admission by Mr. Lewis that the mine owners and the mine workers and the mine operators are in collusion to destroy competition."

Several